TOURNAMENTS

POOL TOURNAMENT

On Monday, October 2, 2023, our student lounge, Shark Tank transformed into a battleground for cue sports enthusiasts. The venue played host to an exhilarating doubles pool tournament that saw numerous student teams come together for a showcase of skill and strategy. The clatter of billiard balls resonated through the lounge as players executed a series of spectacular shots. While some maneuvers clinched victories, others were met with tense gasps from the onlookers. Each game was a thrilling display of talent and teamwork, leaving spectators in awe of the day's intense competition. The event concluded with a vibe of camaraderie, leaving participants eagerly anticipating the next tournament.

CARROM TOURNAMENT

On October 16, 2023, a gripping carrom tournament in the student lounge Shark Tank saw a vibrant mix of students from various cultures. Carrom, a strategic game where precision meets fun, involves flicking a striker to pocket wooden discs, much like miniature billiards without cues. Participants showcased impressive finesse, delivering thrilling matches that echoed with the clicks and clacks of carrom men. The event, a celebration of cultural diversity and sportsmanship, not only tested skills but also forged new friendships. It was a day where every strike brought different cultures together, setting the stage for future gatherings over the beloved board game.

CULTURAL FESTIVITIES

NAVARATRI NIGHT

The School of Business and SLC alumni came together to host an unforgettable Navaratri celebration in the Aultsville Hall on October 12, 2023. The event was a cultural tapestry woven with energetic Garba dance that saw wide participation. Adding to the festive atmosphere was the artful application of henna, which adorned many with traditional designs.

Guests relished the authentic taste of Indian samosas, a highlight that complemented the evening's activities. As the celebration wound down, attendees left with a lasting impression of community spirit and cultural pride.

SPOOKY PAINT NIGHT

On the evening of Friday the 13th, instead of yielding to superstition, students at the Shark Tank harnessed the day's spooky spirit for a night of artistry and imagination. Spooky Paint Night, held on October 13, 2023, saw students laugh in the face of bad luck as they splashed canvases with all manner of ghostly and mystical images.

The event was an artistic nod to the day's eerie undertones, with students playfully crafting scenes that might have haunted any other unlucky soul's nightmares. On this night, however, fear was replaced with creativity, and superstition with camaraderie, as the only chill in the air was from the ghosts and goblins taking shape on canvas. This Friday the 13th will be remembered not for misfortune, but for the festive and creative spirit it inspired in the heart of the Shark Tank.

OTHER EVENTS

PART-TIME JOB FAIR

The Part-time Job Fair on October 17th at the St. Lawrence College Cornwall Campus was a resounding success. Hosted in the Aultsville Lobby from 10 am to 2 pm, the event, organized by the College Career Services and the Cornwall Student Union, provided students with the chance to meet prospective employers for part-time positions.

Students arrived professionally dressed, ready to present their resumes and engage in discussions about job opportunities that could complement their academic schedules. This event was a practical resource for those looking to gain valuable work experience while pursuing their studies.
