I. Microsoft Azure Training and Certification

Enhance Your Educational Journey: Explore Azure for Students

Joining the Azure for Students program is a strategic move in today's tech landscape.

With Azure for Students, you can leverage a wide range of services such as Azure App Service, Azure Functions, Azure Notification Hubs, Azure Database for MySQL, Application Insights feature of Azure Monitor, and Azure DevOps Server. Additionally, you can deploy resources for select Azure services like Azure Virtual Machines, Azure SQL Database, and Azure Blob Storage, ensuring you have the tools needed for any project.

By joining Azure for Students, you receive $100 in Azure credits, valid for one year, with no credit card required. You can renew these credits each year if you remain an active student, providing ongoing support for your learning and development.

Equip yourself with the resources, support, and expertise needed to thrive in the tech field by joining Azure for Students today.

Microsoft Azure Certifications for Students: Free Training Available

Microsoft offers several Azure certifications that cater to different roles and technologies. These certifications are ideal for students looking to validate their skills early in their careers:

1. Azure Fundamentals (AZ-900)
 - Validates understanding of cloud concepts, Azure services, and basic cloud security, privacy, compliance, and trust.
2. Azure Data Fundamentals (DP-900)
 - Establishes foundational knowledge of core data concepts and their implementation using Microsoft Azure data services.
3. Azure AI Fundamentals (AI-900)
 - Validates knowledge of AI concepts and their implementation using Microsoft Azure AI services.

Training for these certifications is free, offering accessible entry points for students aiming to develop expertise in cloud technologies and gain early recognition for their skills. Each certification requires passing an exam to demonstrate foundational understanding and proficiency in Azure technology.
