EVENTS

REMEMBRANCE DAY

In a deeply moving ceremony at Moulinette Hall, the community came together to honor Remembrance Day, a time of reflection and tribute to the courageous individuals who have served and sacrificed for our nation. This day, resonating with solemnity and gratitude, is observed globally to commemorate the service and sacrifice of military personnel. It's a moment for citizens to unite in remembering the bravery and commitment of those who fought for our freedoms. The event at Moulinette Hall was characterized by a heartfelt display of unity and commemoration, capturing the essence of Remembrance Day.

EVENTS

CSU President Safaa Farook led the ceremony with dignity, accompanied by the color party including flag holders Shannen and Nandish, along with significant contributors Patrick Hymus, Francine Desnoyers, Gillian Axten, and Arianna Simmons. Each played a vital role in the day's observances, from Patrick's respectful Acknowledgement of Territory to the solemn wreath-laying by the color party members.

A standout moment was Safaa's emotive reading of "In Flanders Fields" by John McCrae, a central element of Remembrance Day ceremonies, followed by the solemn Last Post and a contemplative moment of silence. The flag bearers' actions during this segment were emblematic, reflecting deep respect and commemoration.

The ceremony concluded with the national anthem "O Canada," encapsulating the collective pride and renewed dedication of the attendees to honor and remember the sacrifices made for our country's peace and freedom.

This Remembrance Day event at Moulinette Hall transcended a mere ceremony; it was a profound tribute to those who have dedicated themselves to our nation, reminding us of the lasting values and responsibilities we hold as citizens.

PODCASTS

BENEATH THE CURRENT

In last month's episodes of our podcast, we dove into a range of fascinating topics. We began with a thought-provoking discussion with Patrick Hymus, our college's Digital Learning Specialist, exploring the complexities and advancements in Artificial Intelligence. This was followed by an enlightening conversation with the Tenant Association of Cornwall And Area, focusing on the rights and responsibilities of tenants, offering valuable insights for our listeners. We rounded off the month with an engaging chat with James Dupuis, the Program Coordinator, delving into the intricacies and excitement of the Game Programming program at our college, highlighting the innovative aspects of this field.

STUDENTS

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Being a student at SLC is a truly enriching experience, combining high-quality education, a stunning campus environment, and a camaraderie that lasts beyond graduation. At CSU, we're dedicated to enhancing this journey, offering a safe and inclusive space where every student can thrive. Our events are tailored to be diverse, ensuring that everyone finds something to enjoy.

We understand the importance of feeling secure and heard. If you ever feel uneasy or encounter issues, we urge you to speak up. Assistance and support are always at hand. This is particularly vital for those just beginning their college life, including international students who might be navigating a new set of challenges. Both the College and the Student Union are committed to supporting our students in every aspect, aiming for their utmost success.

It's essential for students to be aware of their responsibilities as well. Adhering to the academic conduct code, showing respect to peers, staff, and faculty, and engaging in the community are all key aspects of the SLC experience. By understanding and embracing these responsibilities, students contribute to a positive and productive learning environment, while also forging meaningful connections with their fellow students.
